Driving Suit Care

Molecule™ Labs Fabric Treatment Racing suits made from Nomex® fabric offer protection from flames and heat; however, Nomex® does not repel flammable liquids. Severe burns occur more often than they should because combustible spills and stains remain in the porous material of protective clothing and can ignite during flash fires. The Molecule™ Fabric Care System makes Nomex® suits virtually impervious to flammable liquids, while cleaning and refreshing your suit in the wash. Molecule™ has been designed for the unique soils of the racing environment, and removes even the most difficult stains, protecting the wearer against flash fires. The easy-to-use suit treatment kit is a four step system that you can use in your home washing machine and dryer, making expensive dry cleaning a thing of the past. The full kit (shown) includes enough to treat and maintain two suits. The Wash kits each include bottles of Wash and Spot Cleaner only.
